DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-25, drawn to a connector including a latch being capable of coupling with a receptacle designed to receive a fiber optic connector, classified in class 385, subclass 58.
- II. Claims 26-28, drawn to a method for decoupling a connector from a receptacle including the steps of moving the latch pull relative to the connector body so as to force the latch into a position that decouples the latch from the receptacle , classified in class 385, subclass 53.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, claims 1-25, and II, claims 26-28 are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product of group I invention can be used for coupling or decoupling optical signals via a receptacle in fiber optic communications rather than a process steps involving decoupling a connector from a receptacle of described in invention II.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- IA. Claims 14-16 that include claims 1-11 directed to a connector wherein moving the latch pull away from the receptacle causes at least one inclined plane to slide against at least one tab;
- IB. Claims 17-25 that include claims 1-11 directed to a connector wherein moving the latch pull toward the receptacle couples the latch with the receptacle;
- IC. Claim 12 directed to a connector including a means for decoupling the connector body from a receptacle by establishing relative movement between the decoupling means and the connector body;
- ID. Claim 13 directed to a connector including a means for decoupling the connector body from a receptacle by pulling the decoupling means away from the receptacle.

Thus, each of the above group inventions directed to an invention that is distinct, and requires a different search, than that of other inventions.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, none of the claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

A telephone call was made to Mr. Phillips on 7/26/05 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
